PREHISTORIC AMERICA

By
THE SUPREME VOICE
(DR. M. DOREAL)
(Part Two - Conclusion)

The Red Man, or Indian, was not the original inhabitant of North America. The Indian came originally from Asia, but not across a land connection as some geologists believe.

Hiding in the caves to escape the great vibration that was changing the surface of the earth, several tribes of the early Asiatics, descended into deep passages and after months and perhaps even years of time, they finally emerged on the American continent. Proof of this we find in many of the Indian Legends.

The Delaware Indians say, "Mankind was once buried in the earth with a wolf; and they owed their release to the wolf, who scratched away the soil and dug out a means of escape for the man and himself." The Root Diggers of California were released in the same way by a coyote.

The Tonkawas still celebrate this early entombment of their race. They have a dance in which one is buried in the earth; the other dressed in wolf skins dance around, walk over him, and then dig him up with their nails.

All the tribes of the Creeks located their earliest ancestry near an artificial hill in the valley of the Black River in the Natchez country, where they say they emerged. This hill is an elevation of earth about half a mile square and twenty feet high. From its northeast side comes a wall of equal height extending for half a mile to high land. The legend was, that in the center of the hill was a cave, the house of the Master of Breath. Here he made the first men from the clay around him, and as the waters covered the earth at that time, he raised the wall to dry them.

The Indians around Mount Shasta in California say, "The Great Spirit made Mount Shasta; first boring a hole in the sky, he pushed down snow and ice, until they reached the desired height; then he stepped from it to the earth." They also say, "The Creator feared the great hairy one or the great bear, so he hollowed out Mount Shasta as a wigwam for himself, where he might reside while on earth in security and comfort.

In the Seventeenth Century, Fru

Pedro Simon relates, that some miners running a shaft near Callao found a ship which had on top of it the great mass of the hill, and it did not agree in appearance with the ships of the day.

T. W. Kinney of Portsmouth, Ohio, found at the depth of twenty-seven feet a mastodon tusk that had been carved. At Memphis, Tennessee, a brick pavement was discovered seventy feet under the surface.

W. H. Wilmont of Lawn Ridge, Illinois, found a copper coin at a depth of one hundred and fourteen feet, and it was different from any coin known to man today. The figures on it had been etched with acid. It had two human figures, one on either side, and around the edge was a border of hieroglyphics. It was perfectly uniform in thickness and appeared to have been made by machinery.

In Whiteside County, Illinois, in 1851, a large copper ring was found at a depth of one hundred and twenty feet, also an object resembling a boot hook. Later a spear-shaped hatchet made of iron was found. These articles have been discovered in narrow dug or bored wells. What vast prehistoric treasures lie beneath the mass of glacial clay?

Before the Great Change, what is now

America, was not in a state of savagery. The part Thothians had enslaved the barbarous races and taught them the rudiments of civilization. Side by side races of a high degree of culture and races of barbarians existed. The Thothians had established many colonies on this continent, drawing their supplies of ores and metals from immense deposits that are now hidden. Illinois was the seat of the greatest city of the continent.

When the Gobians sent the wave of vibratory force over the earth, it affected the entire surface. The great wave of vibration emanated sparks of light, and waves of heat that condensed the atmosphere into ice. It affected all parts of the earth. It was attracted by the pyramid of force in the inner earth, and as it was drawn to it, caused great convulsions of the surface before it became absorbed.

The Brotherhood Newsletter

Dear Students and Friends:

Rev. William Miner had charge of the Sunday evening Services at seven o'clock. He spoke on Mental and Spiritual Attitudes towards Life. His message was inspirational and informative.

There will be no Temple Services on the 24th and 31st of December or no Wednesday evening Class on the 27th of December. There will be Classes and Sunday evening lectures at all other regularly scheduled times, with the weather and road conditions permitting.

Let me again remind you that the Annual Christmas Party for members and their guests will be held Saturday, December 23, 1972, beginning at 5:00 p.m. in the Administration Building in Shamballa. It will be a potluck dinner, with each family bringing a covered dish and a dessert. The dinner will be followed by a program put on by our many talented students. The Shamballa Board promises that Santa Claus will be there with treats for the children.

Let's not forget the Volunteer Work Program on December 17 at 1:00 p.m. in the Administration Building for cleaning and decorating for the Christmas Party.

Any out-of-town members who can make it to the Christmas Party will surely be most welcome.

We certainly enjoyed our visit with Dr. David S. Williams last Friday afternoon. Dr. Williams, who has been a Brotherhood Member since 1953, is from St. Vincent in the Windward Islands. He commented on the deep snow and the cold weather, saying it was his first experience with snow, but he seemed to enjoy his visit in spite of the weather conditions.

Please remember if you wish your book orders air mailed to include air mail postage. If you wish first class mail for your lessons, please include the extra monthly amount for first class postage.

We do not have a book on "The Seven Earth Cycles" which some of you have written in asking for. However, there is a short resume on the earth cycles in the "Interpretation of Revelations" by Dr. Doreal. Also there is information given on the Earth Cycles in the book titled "Cosmogony and Cosmology" by Dr. Doreal. Both of the above mentioned books are fascinating reading and study for the spiritually thirsty individuals.

Merry Christmas and a Happy New Year to one and all. In Cosmic Harmony,
Dr. W. Whitby

Healing Circle

Many members and friends of the Brotherhood are asking for healing. There are special healing waves sent forth each Sunday evening from seven to seven-ten, from the Temple in Shamballa. Also there is a Healing Circle every Monday evening from nine to nine-ten, Mountain Time.

It is an absolute fact that no negative condition can continue to exist either in our lives or in the world if an intense enough effort is put forth to replace it by one of Harmony and Order. Sometimes we, by ourselves, lack the strength or will to put forth the greatest effort we are capable of. With the help of our Brothers and Sisters here in Shamballa and those Groups throughout the world who are sending forth Healing, we should be able to aid many.

If you need help for self-healing or for help otherwise, write to the Brotherhood.

"Thought is that power which creates; it is the direct cause of all external expression. As there cannot be a thought without a thinker, it is therefore the evidence of being; it is limitless, all-powerful, for good or for evil, indeed no evil exists only as it is caused by perverted thought."--Doreal
